WACAC Assembly Delegate Application Form - 2019

Q5 My qualifications for this office:

My professional and personal experience will offer a unique position as a WACAC Assembly Delegate. Over the past 12 years, diversity, college access and professional development and growth have been continuous themes that have shaped my professional career. It is a central part of who I am, what I value, and what I stand for. It is reflected in my role and voice as a public school counselor and educator. I'm incredibly proud, and even more grateful to have acquired extensive college counseling experience in large comprehensive public schools and districts-- that are in the top 1%--most diverse campuses across the state of CA and US. Working closely with diverse student populations has encouraged me to present and share best practices with the larger counselor and educator communities. Ensuring college access and equity for ALL is fundamental in my practice and how I serve, advise, research and advocate for students. My work with students along with active participation in NACAC's organization in lead committee roles, the greater counseling community, and college admissions at large has been ongoing, sustained and done with enthusiasm. I have presented at various WACAC SLC's and NACAC conferences on topics directly related to equity and access for diverse student populations including First Gen students. Sharing best practices, exchanging ideas and engaging other professionals and educators is equally important to me. While I have very limited to little service in WACAC's organization which by the way, I'm not proud to say, I feel my experience serving in NACAC, has in fact, better prepared me to serve in the role as an Assembly Delegate for WACAC. Thankfully, as of this school year, I serve in the full capacity as a college counselor in a public school that wholeheartedly supports counselor professional development. I truly feel, this time in my career, I am provided with the opportunity to be actively engaged and involved in WACAC. I am inspired to lead and serve and will embrace the opportunity to do so.
